

Ms. Russell's Pre-K class has been on fire during the week of October. They worked hard in their fire theme stations. The students worked with language, fine motor skills, problem solving, role playing, and artistic representations around our fire safety theme. They exhibited hard work in their projects and were able to understand fire safety better.

