

Clarendon High School Yearbook Sponsors and Staff has been honored with the 2019 National Yearbook Program of Excellence Award by Josten's, who are instrumental in providing great High School and College graduation experiences. Along with partnering with Educational Institutes, they also specialize in jewelry and are committed to serving schools and communities all over the United States.

The award given to CHS recognizes their excellence in the creation and distribution of the CISD High School Yearbook. CHS did not apply for this award, they were chosen by the Josten's Company from those who meet their criteria.

English Teacher and High School Yearbook Advisor Elizabeth Zongker and Business teacher Adelita Elam have been diligent in their purpose to provide a well-rounded yearbook that each student can keep for years. The award states that the CHS Yearbook staff has created "A book that means something to all students and includes a vast majority of the student body".

Zongker and Elam know what it takes to produce a great yearbook and work hard to capture the moments cherished by the student body. They also know the importance of meeting deadlines and delivering the books in a timely fashion.

Zongker, Elam, and several students have worked on three completed CHS yearbooks together. Congratulations Yearbook Staff on your Award!
